Dear Parents and Carers,

As the newly elected Chair of Governors, I am writing to introduce myself and thank you all for your continued support for our school. Fladbury Church of England First School is going from strength to strength and it is my privilege to be involved with the further development of the school at this time.

Some of you may be aware of my connection with the school as a teacher in Oak class before I retired a couple of years ago. I have worked in education for many years and never lost that enthusiasm for contact with and the development of the children's education. I am a great believer in lifelong learning.

At Fladbury School, the Governors, staff, parents and children have always worked as a team; building on success in an environment promotes Happy Hearts, Open Minds and Bright Futures for all. Christian values are central to our approach and inform our daily lives.

I am proud to continue my association with Fladbury School, where parents take such an interest in their children's learning and development. The Governing Body monitors the curriculum and standards at the school and asks challenging questions of the school leaders. We ensure the welfare and education of your children and contribute to the School Improvement Plan to develop the school's vision and ethos.

Regular visits to the school will enable me to get to know the children and become involved in their education and daily activities. I aim to become an approachable part of the school community and ensure the development the high standards of care and education which have already been established.

Should you wish to contact me to discuss any matters further, please do so first through Miss Wilson.

I look forward to meeting as many of you as possible throughout the school year.

With best wishes for an enjoyable half term,

Sue Johnston
Chair of Governors
